ABSTRACT

[0026]A system includes logic configured for counting transitions between data on a bus and data to be put onto the bus. Where the counted transitions exceed a threshold, the data to be put onto the bus is

5   complemented. As a result, complemented data is put on the bus where the threshold was exceeded and un-complemented data is put on the bus where the threshold was not exceeded.